

Anexo I: flashcards

Flashcards (Sesión 1: clase teórica)

- Diferenciar el tipo de condicional:

I'll go to South America if I save £2000

If there was a fire in this hotel, it would be very difficult to escape

If you had studied more, you would have done better in the exams

Unless I phone you tomorrow, you'll start at ten o'clock

If I didn't have an exam next weekend, I would go clubbing at the weekend

I wouldn't have been left if I hadn't overslept

If you are tired, I'll make some coffee for you

I'd go somewhere lively if I didn't have any work to do

He would have died if he hadn't been wearing a helmet

I'll go to the disco unless I have a headache

If I were you, I would write to him

They wouldn't have bought the flat if they had known what the neighbours were like

If the photos are good, I'll send them to you

I wouldn't live in this city if I didn't have a car

If I'd waited another minute, I would have seen you

- Encontrar el final de la oración:

If she send this letter now,

I would spend a year in the USA

I wouldn't have taken the apple

he will receive it tomorrow.

if it were easier to get a green card.

if I hadn't been hungry.

If I find your wallet,

If we told our father,

The team would have been in better form

I will give it back to you.

he would be very angry.

if they had trained harder
the months before.

Claire will go to Paris

If he had a mobile phone,

If he had studied for the exam,

if she get a cheap flight.

I would call him.

he would have passed it.

If we don't study harder,

I wouldn't buy this laptop

If she had asked me,

we won't pass the exam.

If I didn't need it.

I would have helped her.

You will have nightmares

We'd go by bus

If I had taken the bus,

if you watch this scary film.

if we didn't have a car.

I would have arrived on time.